Exchange-Monitor

The old Milan Exchange comes out this week for the first time under its new management. On account of the large number of advertisements, we have enlarged it to a thirty-six instead of a thirty-two column paper. Owing to the work of getting up the change, we could not have time to hunt up a great many local items, but now the machinery is up and well oiled, and we propose to go to work to restore the old EXCHANGE to its pristine glory. Our subscription list is rapidly increasing, our friends all along the line are giving us substantial encouragement in the way of advertising and subscription. This is all absolutely essential to the success of any paper, and we would still urge upon our friends that we must all pull together and we will put our shoulder to the wheel and then we can have the best paper in west Tennessee.

CINDERS.

Beautiful rain.

More plank-walks.

Advertise in the EXCHANGE.

Our plank-walk carpenters are on a strike.

Bring your job work to the EXCHANGE office.

The saloon keepers have a fat thing of it now.

Mr. A. C. Hamilton is the happiest man in Milan. It's a girl.

Messrs. Paul, Mc. and Harvey B. are now working on the streets.

The EXCHANGE is the best advertising medium in West Tenn.

Why can't Milan have plank-walks on both sides of main street.

The doleful sound of the serenaders can be heard on our streets at night.

Conley & Harrison, have an interesting local in this issue. Read it.

The base ball players of Milan, are practicing ball catching every evening.

We will soon hear the musical voice of the small boy, peddling strawberries.

Most of our fishermen are having good luck at the river-fish-luck.

The South

will be a marriage near Milan before 60 days.

The Baptist church-ward has lately been cleaned, and adds much to its looks.

If the dead limbs on the shade trees on Main Street, were cut off, they would look better.

E. L. Chambers is offering rare bargains at his store. Read his locals in another column.

Now is the time to go to New Orleans cheap. Go on Collins' Excursion next Wednesday.

The dead trees on Main Street are being cut down. Let young trees be set out immediately.

We want 1500 subscribers for the EXCHANGE in the next 60 days. Subscription $1.50 a year, in advance.

The colored musicians from Bolivar made music on the streets last Thursday for the benefit of our citizens.

The street committee are doing some excellent work on 1st street and others. Now look after the plank walks.

Milan has no amusement now. The clerks are always busy, and are not pitching horse-shoes, playing marbles, &c.

D. C. Senter lost a very fine colt a few days since. Although it was only a few days old, he had been offered $75 for it.

Jordan & Stone, changes the reading matter in their column this week. Read it and go and see what they have got.

We hear of two ladies who are making two pretty dresses in the suburbs. Don't be surprised, if there should be a wedding.

Mayor Hale, had Andy Redman sent to the poor house last Wednesday. Redman's right knee was badly hurt, and was unable to work.

Dr. R. T. Davidson, the dentist of Dyer Station is in the City. Those wishing work go to see him. He is located at the Milan Hotel.

On account of our printer being sick and a rush of job work, our paper is a little late. We will try and have it out on time hereafter.

The Ladies Aid Society are having some efficient work done on the inside of the Methodist church. The society deserves much credit for their hard labor.

Our strawberry men should not forget to look in the EXCHANGE to see who are the best commission men to ship to. Give them a trial with an early shipment.

Messrs. W. C. Turner and M. L. Baird gave 15 feet each to the corporation, and extended College street to the Cotton compress, making it the longest street in Milan.

Our friends should not forget that the MORRIS and EXCHANGE have been consolidated and both together propose to be the best local paper in this country. Subscribe.

During the month of April, the C. & N. O. railroad transferred to the L. & N. road, 3,296,750 pounds of freight, and received from the L. & N. road, 3,846,527 pounds.

We are under obligations to Mr. Will Hawks, for courtesies extended to us while in Nashville. If you want good cigars while you are in Nashville, go and see him at B. F. Moore & Co., opposite Maxwell house.

The force that has been working on our plank-walks, are on a strike for 25 per cent. addition to wages. The citizens are sympathizing with the workmen. We think the bosses will increase the pay by next Tuesday.

All the merchants and druggists, who sell whiskey, were notified by Mayor Hale last week that they would have to sell out the whiskey they had on hand by Saturday night, or pay tipping license. They sold out.

Who will be the first to bring to this office a box of strawberries. Col. Joe Ramser is generally in the lead and the man who beats him will have to rise early.

Since writing the above, Mr. Joe Ramser has laid on our table a delicious bunch of strawberries. Milan can boast of a man that can laugh longer, louder and at nothing than any other man in West Tennessee. If any of our neighboring towns don't believe it, let them bring their man. Can we bet on you, Harvey B.?

Remember that Collins' Excursion to New Orleans will leave here next Wednesday. If you want to see the beautiful city of New Orleans, and Porto Eads and the beautiful scenery on the Mississippi River, we advise you to take this trip.

Freddie Hurt, infant son of A. B. Hurt, died on last Sunday night. An Allwise Providence has seen fit to transplant this little flower ere it has opened into bloom, to his kingdom, where it can bloom through all eternity a perfect flower. We extend our heartfelt sympathies to the bereaved parents.

Shower of the Queen.

Deputy United States Marshal, R. F. Ham, arrested one Branner for passing counterfeit money last Monday. Branner lived near Dresden, and we understand that he has not been in the business long. Robert carried and sold some of the Memphis jail.

A Rare Occurrence.

For the satisfaction and benefit of my neighbors and friends, and those interested in raising stock as myself, I write this article.

Good many have expressed to me their opinion as to the impossibility, and frequently ask me as to the facts of the report concerning my mare this spring, and some of whom have approach me in this style: "Mose somebody is telling a falsehood on you."

Facts are these: About the middle of Nov. last, while plowing my mare was accidentally thrown on her back into a well 12 or 14 feet deep. The well being nearly full of old rotten peach-tree brush, and the plow holding in the bank broke her fall and did not damage her much. After rallying up help we dug an incline ditch, down to the water's edge, thinking she could get up and walk out, she made several efforts and failed. Fortunately, Tom, Clark, col, was passing, and by aid of him and his four-horse team we finally succeeded in getting the mare on top of the ground, and to the surprise of all present, she got upon her feet. The strange part is this, about the last of January she dropped a large well-developed colt, doubtless had been dead a few days. On the evening of the 25th of March, the same mare delivered another well-developed living mare colt, 3 feet 6 inches high. At this writing the colt is living and doing well. This seems to be a poser of the nineteenth century, even to experienced stock men and doctors. Humboldt and Trenton papers please copy. T. M. KARKES.
